

Iowa State University (ISU) Culinary Food Science Transfer Plan

Food science meets food art in Culinary Food Science. If you like to experiment with food and enjoy creating delicious and innovative recipes, this major might be right for you. It is a food science-based degree in which you build a strong foundation in science while learning basic culinary skills. As a graduate, you will be prepared to combine food science knowledge with culinary skills to work in food product development, in a test kitchen, or even as an entrepreneur business owner creating recipes and digital content for food companies.

The courses listed on this plan may be taken at the community college and transferred to Iowa State University (ISU) to satisfy requirements in the Bachelor of Science degree in Culinary Food Science. This transfer plan document was accurate on the date it was prepared and may not reflect subsequent changes by ISU or the community college. For this reason, the transfer plan should not replace consultation with an Iowa State University academic advisor.

- All courses on this plan do not need to be completed prior to transfer. Often, transfer students complete 1 year at the community college followed by 3 years at ISU to complete coursework in the timeliest manner and earn the Bachelor of Science degree in Culinary Food Science.
- An emphasis on completing science sequence courses and the prerequisites for upper-level courses will best help students move through the program at the quickest pace after transfer. If you are a part-time student or cannot complete all of the suggested coursework on this plan, consider choosing the science coursework first since this begins the longest sequence of courses. (Begin with the chemistry and general biology equivalents.)
- No more than 65 semester credit hours earned at a two-year college can be applied to a baccalaureate degree from ISU. The university accepts up to 16 semester hours of credit earned in career-technical courses if the sending college accepts such courses toward its Associate of Arts or Associate of Science degrees.
- Plan ahead to apply to ISU a year prior to when you anticipate starting ISU courses, complete the Federal Financial Aid Application \(FAFSA\) for financial aid options, and apply for scholarship opportunities.

Additional notes:

- A minimum of 120 credits are required to earn the Bachelor of Science degree in Culinary Food Science. Students may choose electives beyond the requirements for the major to reach that total if needed.
- This plan is a suggestion only and may need to be adapted to meet individual needs and commitments.
